

the brig - (C) michael k. pellegrino

 A
in the darkness of the brig
 A Ab A my mind set to thinking
 A
is this really happening Ab
or is this just a figment of my mind

 B that's when i heard a noise B Bb B
coming from the shadows
 B a hand i saw it was black and raw Db- Amaj7
outstretched to me i took the hand and shook it the light exposed his face "howdy man - they call me stan how'd you find this place?"

I told him of the Jaffery I told him of it sinking is this really happening
or is it just a pigment of my eye we talked all night he set me right he told me of our captors they think we're spies but otherwise they're really not that bad

So he gave me some good advice he said you've got to watch our captors are at war he whispered then he coughed

When the time is right he said he might try to get back home He was waiting for that crucial moment when he was left alone

He'd cut through the wall With his teeth and fall right to the sea